

SELECTING THE BEST SIP FOR YOUR BUSINESS

Factors to consider:

- 1. Price: Most providers will include a one time charge on top of the monthly recurring to subscription. Take note of the hefty activation charges and that higher monthly subscription does not equate to higher quality calls.
- 2. Activation Speed: Consider the time and business cost it takes to activate the SIP line. Select the provider with a short, or better still, instant activation period.
- 3. Contractual Period: Those with a short or no minimum contract period will allow you more flexibility when you need to switch your SIP service due to other considerations.
- 4. Number of SIP Channels: Providers with unlimited channels allows a great deal of scalability to cater to your business growth.
- 5. Call Quality: Pick SIP provider with their own managed network in Singapore, which provide the best call quality that is important for your business.
